Models Show Island Styles

Philippine Fashion Show and luncheon will be presented by Marina District, CFWC at the Inglewood Woman's Club Oct. 30 at noon.

The fashion event was arranged by Mrs. Joseph L. Morgan, international hostess chairman and special events chairman for Marina District.

Mrs. John Lopez, Jr., president of the Philippine Women's Club will be narrator and Mrs. Eugene H. Stivers, first vice-president, will be co-ordinator. Members of senior and junior clubs will be models.

Costumes are original creations imported from the Philippines. Every gown is made of native fibers and embroideries. Some of the gowns were modeled at the Philippine Fashion Show at the World's Fair in Seattle this month.

Versions of the basic costumes of Filipino women will be shown. They include the Mestiza or Termo, traditional evening dress worn for special occasions; the Patadyong-Kimono, a combination of a draped skirt and a short over-blouse as worn by the women of the Visayas; and the Balintawak, a rural version of the Mestiza, traditional costume for the fiestas of Antipolo.

Also shown will be the Igorot, native costume of tribes of the mountain province of Northern Luzon; and the Moro, as worn by the Muslims of the southernmost provinces of the Philippines. Wedding gowns and adaptations of the lovely Maria Clara dress will highlight the collection.

A buffet luncheon will precede the fashion show. Special seating for club groups may be arranged by contacting Mrs. Morgan. Tickets are available through presidents of 24 clubs in Marina District.
